

Dear Parent/Guardian;

Today we will be starting free online homework help from our own Desert Sky MS teachers!

Five of our teachers are offering one hour of their time to help students, via Zoom, Monday through Thursday. Your student may click on the Zoom below, during the designated time, to receive homework assistance. Students are required to:

- log in using their DVUSD issued email account.
- use their full first and last name, as it appears in PowerSchool
- have their camera on and be visible.

The schedule is as follows:

Mondays from 4:00 p.m. to 5:00 p.m.: Science teacher Mr. Kagan

These teachers are willing to offer assistance with general homework, as well as with subject-specific help. Students with homework questions are still encouraged to also email their assigned teacher with their specific questions so that teacher can assist them the next day.

This is for students only. Parents/Guardians who have questions about individual assignments or tests, classroom or homework policies or their student's overall progress, need to contact their student's assigned teacher. Students are encouraged to do the same.

Students are expected to follow all school and district rules and expectations while they are on Zoom. Not following expectations on Zoom will result in the student being removed from the Zoom session, and may result in school consequences.

If your student logs into Zoom and the teacher is not there, that means that the teacher is unavailable that evening.

Tutoring will not be available on holidays, vacations or extended weekends.

We hope your student takes advantage of this valuable service!
