Preschool Newsletter for Aug.14th-Aug.17th

We are moving right along through unit 2. We've been talking about our body and how we are all unique. We talked briefly about our five senses and will explore them individually next week. During learning labs we played a shape game. The children have had fun creating a birthday party, pretending in the Physician's Office and making invitations with open ended art materials. On Tuesday of this week we practiced a lock down. The children asked many questions about why we would need to have a lock down drill. We practice so we're prepared and not scared.
