RETURN TO LEARNING EDITION

Dear Copper Creek Families,

Thank you so much for your flexibility, understanding and patience as we work together to create our Copper Creek virtual school. It is hard to believe, but we are rapidly approaching the first quarter of our 2020-2021 school year. We want to help all of our students be successful and we believe that sharing the following information will be helpful with this endeavor.

Teachers will use Canvas Notification to remind students of missing assignments. Teachers will also send out parent email updates asking parents to prompt their child to check Canvas for missing assignments. Late assignments will not be penalized. At the end of the quarter, all missing assignments and zeros will be recorded as 50%. This measure avoids grades that were not expected.

We want our students to master essential learning so students will have two attempts for both assignments and assessments. In addition, teachers will be available during the grade level scheduled "Response to Intervention" time to assist students wanting additional instruction prior to the second attempt at an assignment or assessment.

Wishing all families a safe and fun Labor Day weekend! Enjoy your family time.

Go Bobcats!
